SPRING, '95.

STYLE 675.

How Do You Like It?

The above cut represents one of our very popular numbers in Ladies' Wash Waists. We simply use the cut of this one number to call attention to the many good numbers represented in our stock. As a whole, our stock of waists is entirely different from any other goods being sold in the city; in fact the style and general makeup of these garments is superior to anything in the market today. That is saying a good deal, nevertheless it is true. In addition to many other good points, we would call attention to the Sleeve and Yoke in our waists as being superior and entirely different from anything to be had elsewhere. Prices range from 50c to $2.50. Call and see the finest line of waists in the city at

COUNCIL TO CONSIDER

Hasty Action of Last Night to be Looked After.

THE NEWS REVIEW CONTRACT

Stands Between the Presentation of Printing to the Tribune and Payment For the Work—Another Meeting Called For This Evening.

There will be a special meeting of council this evening at 8 o'clock, called by President Berg and Members Burton and Williams for the purpose of reconsidering the action on the clerk's report last night.

When council convened on the 8th of May last year, finance committee reported favorably on the offer of the News Review to do all newspaper printing for the city at the rate of 50 cents for the first insertion and 25 cents for the second, just half the price allowed by law. When the matter was taken up the vote stood Burton, Berg, Horwell, Kent, Marshall, Owen and Williams in favor of the move, not one objection being made. The contract also provided that all job work should be let to the lowest bidder. Last night the contract was broken by the city when the printing of the clerk's report was given to the Tribune, and it is to think over this that the meeting is called for this evening. Manager Palmer, of the News Review, sifted the matter to the bottom this morning, and found that the contract was legal in every way, and President Berg took the same view of the situation and served an order on Clerk Hanley notifying the Tribune not to print the report until the difference had been settled in council. The question will be decided tonight.

The justice of the proposition made by the daily papers can not be denied, and the move to give the work to the Tribune bears a strong flavor which should not be there. During the years the Tribune has gorged itself at the public crib the city has been wasting money in paying its bills, and little if any benefit has been derived from any publication of official matter in its columns. At the meeting last night a clear explanation of how the city would be saved 15 cents on each square of the publication was made by the representatives of the different daily papers, but council paid no attention to what was said, voting on the question as though there was no such institution in the city as justice. The question to be decided is whether the city can break a legal contract at will, and throw down its own acts as though its word was as a rope of sand.

THE MEETING.

Business Done by Council—A Part of it Cut and Dried.

Council did not convene until 8:40 last night and only five members were present then, Messrs. Berg, Burton, Horwell, Swindells and Owen, although Kent came in later.

Clerk Hanley read the only bid received for the paving of gutters on May street, that of John Ryan. He offered to pave with fire brick with a foundation of furnace ashes, laying brick flat with brick along the outside standing on edge, for 60 cents per yard, or all on edge for 90 cents, work to be done according to style used on other gutters in the city. It was estimated that there would be about 1,200 feet to pave and the cost would be $240. Swindells had an ax to grind on this subject. He was the chief kicker, and immediately berated Clerk Hanley for opening the bid instead of holding it until the regular meeting, as there were others who wanted to bid, although, of course Swindells didn't mention any names. He moved that the bid be laid over, and broad smiles were on numerous faces as Owen seconded the motion. He also thought the clerk should not have opened the bid without notifying council, as it was not a square deal with Mr. Ryan to let other contractors know what he bid. As the meeting progressed it was strongly apparent that the square deal idea was lost sight of. Swindells talked some more and then he collapsed when the clerk calmly announced that council had authorized him to advertise for bids and that he had done so, limiting the time to 12 o'clock, noon, yesterday, and at that time Mr. Ryan's bid was the only one handed in. In spite of President Berg's very sensible suggestion that Mr. Ryan was entitled to the work, Swindells could not abandon his pet idea until he discovered that he didn't know what he was talking about. Then he backed down as gracefully as possible, hurriedly withdrew his motion, and on motion of Mr. Burton, seconded by Owen, the contract was awarded to Mr. Ryan. This matter disposed of there remained the question of printing the clerk's annual report.

Propositions from the News Review and Crisis to publish the report for 124 cents per square each, or one-fourth the legal rate for both, and place a copy of either paper in every house in the city so that the citizens, who read newspapers and not novelettes, could see the financial condition of the city, was read. Also the bid of the Tribune, an obscure weekly, to furnish each house with a copy of the paper (?) and 100 extra books or pamphlets for the city at the rate of 40 cents per square. As mentioned more fully elsewhere, the publishers of the other papers, who were present, urged, as the bid of the Tribune had been put in through trickery that they be allowed to change their bid to one-half their offer, or 25 cents per square for both dailies. This meant a saving of many dollars to the taxpayers, but it was a case of "taxpayers be hanged" to more than one councilman in whom the people had put their trust.

Swindells wanted time to recollect the little song and dance he had prepared, so he called for another reading of the bids. Then he ground his Tribune axe vigorously, sputtered and stammered until his very whiskers shook with emotion. He couldn't think of leaving the basement sheet out in the cold, presumably because its circulation was weak at the best. And without the job it would financially freeze to death. And then he wanted some of those "books" to use as lamplighters, and didn't know a cheaper way of getting them. Of course he knew that the Tribune pulled the municipal leg for about 300 more books than were needed last year and got stuck in trying to explain how it was. And then Manager Palmer of the News Review spoke on the subject, showing up the unfairness of dealing out the work to the boiler plate sheet, while J. C. Deidrick spoke for the Crisis. Then Joy Betz, the Tribune's misfit, shed tears as he recounted how his beloved Jerry would starve if he didn't get the printing. That settled it. The rank enemy of the workingman must have the job, whether anybody read his paper or not, and a vote was taken on a motion to award it to the Tribune, made by Kent and seconded by Swindells. It carried, Messrs. Berg and Burton voting against it and Swindells, Owen, Horwell and Kent favoring. The meeting adjourned at 9:25.

KNOCKED HIM DOWN.

John Baxter Has an Adventure With a Bicycle.

John Baxter, driver for A. J. Moon, Sixth street, has been off duty for a few days owing to injuries received in a car, and last night he had another taste of bad luck.

He has been hobbling about with the aid of a cane and was standing near the corner of Fifth and Market streets among a crowd when John Porter came riding up on a bicycle. He was racing around the block with Fred Sinclair and had been going at a high rate of speed but slowed up when he saw the crowd. Seeing an opening of about four feet he put on extra pressure and was speeding through when the reverend attorney, he claims, stuck out his foot and he ran the wheel against him. Porter was thrown over the handles and the handle bar struck Baxter in the stomach. He was knocked down and lay breathless for several minutes. He is still feeling the effects today, and has in addition a swollen ankle.

ZOELLARS CONVICTED.

The Jury Said He Was Guilty This Morning.

Special to News Review.

LISBON, April 4.—The case of Charley Zoellars came to an end today when the jury came into the court room, and the foreman informed the judge that they looked upon the accused as guilty of the charge.

The evidence in the case was much the same as that given at the trial yesterday, and told the story of the Chinaman's misfortune so plainly that the jury was only out of the room about 15 minutes. Baltzer was taken back to jail, and will be brought up for sentence with his brother. John Henry is being tried on one of the numerous charges against him this afternoon.

Lloyd Must Give Bond.

Constable Albright is serving certificates of election on the new township officers today, and it has developed that Thomas Lloyd must give a bond as trustee. The law was passed last year, but did not become operative until the first of January, and Lloyd is the first trustee affected to the present time. He cannot see why this should be, as the others give no bond, but the law is plain, and cannot be dodged.

WANTED TO ROB A BANK

A Plot Against The Potters' National.

ONE BAD BURGLAR FAILED

There Was Too Much Danger, and He Gave It Up at the Last Moment—They Had Weapons and Were Determined, But No Attempt Was Made.

A daring robbery was planned in the city a few weeks ago, and only failed of consummation because one of the thieves decided that there was too much danger for him to take the risk.

The principals were two notorious young toughs and another man whose name does not appear, but whose presence cannot be doubted. One of the boys endeavored to purchase a revolver from Happy Reark, offering him $2.50 if he would part with the weapon. He refused to make the bargain, but from various sentences dropped during the conversation suspected that a scheme was on foot for the two, accompanied by the other man, who is not known, to walk into the Potters' bank, and hold up the office force during business hours. During the excitement they hoped to get away, crossing the river into West Virginia. The plan was ready to be carried out according to Reark, when the one refused to go farther into the plot. He feared the consequences, and at the last moment refused to give his aid, and the plan came to nothing. They were armed and ready for the robbery.

ELECTED OFFICERS.

A Lively Meeting at the First Presbyterian Church.

The congregational meeting at the First Presbyterian church last evening was attended by a large portion of the congregation, and resulted in the re-election of some of the office holders, and the selection of some new material. A ripple of excitement was caused by the difference of opinion in the manner in which a portion of the business was transacted, and sarcastic utterances came from several parts of the auditorium. Some of the members did not wait to see the end of the meeting.

At the meeting the following officers were elected: Elders—J. C. Allison, William Fisher, John A. George, George Gaston. Deacons—George L. Matheny, George Wucherer, Dr. W. R. Clark. Trustees—J. M. Kelley, John W. Hall, J. J. Purinton, J. H. Brookes, F. W. Fowler. Treasurer—S. T. Herbert. Organist—E. K. Macrum. Clerk—M. E. Albright. Another meeting will be held next Wednesday night to transact other business.

TWO CLAIMANTS.

Ask Consideration From the Humane Society.

A woman giving the name of Mrs. French called on the Humane society with a long tale of woe recently, saying that her husband had deserted her, and she wanted help. The officials took the case in hand, and were about to look after the man in a legal way when it was discovered that he had returned home, and was doing his duty and providing for the family.

Mrs. Charles Spalding complained to the Humane officials today that her husband had deserted her, and become very friendly with another woman in the city. She wanted some prosecution because his affection had been stolen from her, but this the society could not arrange. Then she wanted treatment as a deserted wife, but there were circumstances connected with the case which prompted the officials to keep their hands off.

Afraid of the Chinamen.

The Pottery Gazette in a recent article on the Chinese has this to say: "We can scarcely hope to export our goods to either China or Japan, as long as their potters keep up their skill and keep down their wages to the present level. Indeed, if the Chinese should take to making earthenware and china on the European system, we might as well close up our establishments and seek other fields of industry for our energies and capital. The degree of proficiency which the Chinese have attained in the arts of war has been severely criticised of late, but the production of blue and white china is an art in which they have not had any equals, much less any superiors."

They Are Mistaken.

Mayor Gilbert this morning received a letter from John M. Bailey, secretary of the Pittsburgh testing laboratory, stating that the firm understood that the contract for a new bridge over the Ohio river at this point had been let and they would like the job of inspecting the material used in its construction. The company's men are now inspecting the Park avenue viaduct, New York, and referred to it in the letter. Mayor Gilbert handed the communication to Attorney J. E. McDonald, but as Mr. McDonald has not let the contract he cannot immediately give the Pittsburgh man the job. Meanwhile bridge matters apparently contain no new developments of importance.

A Patent Polisher.

Louis Young and J. A. Norris have a patent shoe polishing arrangement in which they can see thousands of shining dollars. It is a hollow cylinder of metal, closed at one end by a sponge. This they propose to fill with a liquid blackening, and when polish is wanted the owner has nothing to do but remove the cap, and apply the sponge to the shoe. It is so small as to be easily carried in the pocket, an ever ready shoe brush. They have received flattering offers from manufacturing concerns for the right to make it.

When put upon the market the tube will be made of aluminum, and there will be three different kinds. The largest will be for shoe polish, the next for mucilage, and the third to be used as a marking brush in stores. A valve in one end increases the flow of fluid, and the cap prevents any of it appearing to soil the fingers.

Fooled the Poultry Men.

At the meeting of the poultry society of Eastern Ohio held in Leetonia an Alliance man who wanted the next show in his town came down and captured the vote. He had a lot of proxies, and voted them against the contingent anxious to see the show come to East Liverpool. There was a great deal of surprise at the result of the contest, but he was able to show that he was all right, having gained a large number of new members in Alliance.

Was Pleased With the Armory.

In the statement of the inspection of Company E Monday night, the fact was overlooked that Captain Heisten, Colonel Gyger and Sergeant Major Hoover visited the company armory, city hall. They inspected it and were shown Captain Supplee's books. The officers expressed themselves as highly pleased with the neatness of the armory and the thorough business-like manner in which the books were kept.

Epworth League Delegates.

The Epworth league at a special meeting last night elected delegates to the following conventions: Miss Orrel McCain and Will Huff, to the Steubenville district; Miss Carrie McNutt, to the Fifth district, held at Fostoria, and Thomas McCann, to the international convention at Chattanooga, Tenn. All of the conventions will be held during June, and it is expected that every delegate from here will attend.

Zoellars Was Defiant.

LISBON, April 4.—Dutch Zoellars has been wearing his defiant air since he came here, and when being taken from the court house the other day held up his manacled hands and asked the crowd what they thought of that pair of bracelets. In the court room he thanked Jailer Bick for his kindness, but abused Sheriff Lodge to the best of his ability.

Flags and Lanterns.

Some novelty to increase the efficiency of the company is constantly being added to the fire department, the last making its appearance today. It consists of two red flags and an equal number of lanterns to be used in stopping trains when a line of hose is across the track. The flags are for day and the lanterns for night service.

Have the Information.

A meeting of jiggersmen was held last night, and the committee reported that they had succeeded in obtaining the prices paid in all of the potteries for work done on the new jiggers and all data and information required to decide upon a working list, but that has not yet been done.

New Light Plant Alive.

The business men interested in the proposed electrical plant will meet tomorrow night and talk it all over. The prominent figures are keeping their doings in the background, and reliable news cannot be obtained.

They Initiate Tonight.

The Heptasophs have received word that the supreme deputy archon will be at the meeting tonight. Four candidates will be admitted.

IT IS HOT IN MADISON

Neighbor Arrayed Against Neighbor North of Us.

A SCHOOL HOUSE THE CAUSE

An Old Battle of 15 Years Standing Has Broken Forth, and the Clans Are Massing Their Forces for the Final Struggle on Monday—The Women Are Taking a Hand in the Fight.

There will be a school election in Madison township next week, and the people are wrought to a high pitch of excitement in anticipation of the result.

The fight itself is almost old enough to vote, dating back to 15 years ago, when West Point wanted a schoolhouse. At that time the people believed they were entitled to the building, and carried on a determined warfare. In the various elections they were outnumbered until the rank and file became discouraged, and wanted to give up in despair. They claimed that they had done all that mortals could do, and were weary of making attempts, but a few indefatigable spirits could not be suppressed. When they found that the people could do nothing they went to the legislature, and eventually succeeded in having a law to put Township Line, Cream Ridge and Madison in one constellation. Matters went on in this way for years, and the time allowed by the legislature before another change could be made passed without notice. The taxpayers were satisfied until the old wound broke out afresh. What caused this change does not appear on the surface, but it came, and now the battle is on with an intensity seldom found in national campaigns. Word has been sent all over the district that certain members of the board of education want to move Township Line school house to Hill Deading and Madison school to West Point. According to the story Cream Ridge will remain where it is for the present, but at some future time may be moved to a location better suited to the needs of the board and their friends. The members who are being opposed by one faction deny that they ever thought of this arrangement, but were always willing to let the law stand as a precedent. Their expressions are, however, taken with little faith by the opponents of the plan, and the battle is on. Each school is represented by two directors, and to the present it has always seemed to the people outside of West Point that their members held the upper hand, and would not give in. The fight now is whether the specials, as they are called, will be beaten by the anti-specials, and the contest waxing warm. In some instances brother is arrayed against brother, one being cited where the members of the same family do not meet without a quarrel on the various merits of their respective candidates. When one side accuses the other of wanting to move the school house there is always a denial, followed by a heated argument. At times the champions have almost come to blows, but no cases where black eyes and swollen noses have figured prominently appear on the surface. That part of the county always enjoys exciting campaigns, particularly in presidential years, but the people say they were never as warm as at present. It is the sole topic of conversation, and a plan of systematic electioneering is being carried on day after day. During the winter the farmers have had little to do but discuss the differences of the various sides. This probably started the campaign, and now that it is well under way the people can not see how it can be given up. The men are so interested in the matter, and have discussed it so often at home, that a new feature which may change all the calculations of the leaders has appeared on the scene. It is nothing more than the women who are claiming their right to a place in the campaign. They know they are entitled to a vote at the school election and there are enough of them in the vicinity to swing the result, provided they go to the polls. The male population in position to vote is about 100, and the women number perhaps half as many more. Some effort has been made to capture their vote, but a resident who came in from there yesterday stated that the women would in all probability be influenced by fathers and brothers, and would vote with the men in the section to which they belong. The result of the balloting is impatiently awaited by both sides, and some money, it is said, has been offered and taken, but in the majority of instances the interested parties are working so hard for success that they have little time for wagers. They are electioneering as they never electioneered before.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

A smooth article. "Law and Order" wishes Bert Scheller may remain right.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—Mr. Bert Scheller, wrestler, glove fighter and sport in general, is a far smoother article than I at first supposed him. He neither chews, smokes, swears, drinks intoxicants, nor associates with toughs or roughs, as per his statement in your issue of last night. He might have been a little more modest in his matter of self-praise as a "manly man and an honest man," but he can be excused, on the ground of great provocation on my part. Does the amiable Mr. Scheller imagine for a moment that an intelligent reading public can be gulled with soft phrases and smooth wording? Is he foolish enough to think that the public at large does not know what a "glove fight to a finish" means? Have not many men been killed through the instrumentality of brutal blows administered in these same so-called glove fights? As a rule, do not the very worst class of any community in our land attend these glove fights? Is not this class made up, as a rule, of toughs, roughs, blackguards and thieves? Ah, no, Mr. Scheller, the mass of good citizens utterly condemn glove fights, and the members of the Law and Order society will make it unpleasant for all prize fighters in this section in the future. We are sorry to have to hurt your feelings, Mr. Scheller; but truth compels us to say that many of your associates in this city are not the men who would be eagerly sought after when one wanted an employee to place in a position of trust. Glove fighters, as a rule, are not the best of citizens, in any manner of means. Stick to the wrestling mat, Mr. Scheller, if you must needs be in the so-called charmed circle of sports; but, Mr. Scheller, don't, for the sake of your safety and peace at night, in the midst of soothing slumbers, think for a moment of entering a prize ring in this community. "LAW AND ORDER."

NO LABOR PAPER.

Trades Unionists in This City Have Clear Level Heads.

At the meeting of trades council last night, the unionists there assembled did a very wise thing in refusing not to start either a daily or weekly newspaper in East Liverpool at the present time, reaching the just and wise conclusion that the daily press of this city gives labor a fair show in every particular, opening their columns to the men just as freely and fully as they do the manufacturers or employers. The workmen composing the union organizations have as leaders some level-headed, thinking men, men of experience in journalism; men who know that it requires a nice sum of money, spot, hard cash, to start and keep alive a daily or weekly newspaper, particularly where the field is so well covered as it is in East Liverpool. In so far as the NEWS REVIEW is concerned, its columns are always open to men and manufacturers alike, where either party can have a fair hearing, barring both parties from the use of scurrilous or abusive attacks upon anyone. Fair play is a priceless jewel, and this jewel can always be found in the columns of the NEWS REVIEW.

ST. CLAIR.

Mr. C. R. Barrett is turning out some very fine maple molasses.

Aaron McCoy is moving from St. Clair to a farm near New Lisbon.

We would like to have a correspondent from St. Clair to represent the place.

Professor Todd has organized a writing school which is a very important organization to any community.

St. Clair township elected all Republicans with the exception of treasurer. Mr. Tolland should remember his Republican friends.

Rev. E. D. Holts, of Alliance, will hold quarterly conference in the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday, April 21. All are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. A. Barrett is opening one of his coal mines on his farm. The coal is of the best burning qualities, and the farm is well underlaid with coal of different veins.

An excellent entertainment is expected from the school in about four or five weeks. We were pleased to see some of our friends from Liverpool at the other entertainment and we would be pleased to meet them again.

Mr. Charles Gill, candidate for sheriff from East Liverpool, is looking up his interests in this vicinity. The citizens have known Mr. Gill for the past several years and can heartily say they have found him honest and truthful to his official duties and we expect to do our share in helping him to be our respected sheriff.

All Free.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The lodge of the Patriotic Sons of America will be instituted this evening.

Mrs. Lou Hendricks, of the East End, is dangerously ill, and it is feared that she cannot recover.

Kephart, the only unfortunate in the local prison, has been cleaning city hall, and is probable that he will soon be released.

Tobias Bahl and family, of Walnut street, will leave tomorrow for Salineville. Their household goods were shipped to the coal town today.

The pony crew was so unfortunate as to put off a car on the Horn switch at Market street yesterday. No one was hurt, and the car was put on the rails today.

Contractor Ryan was engaged today in relaying the brick on a portion of Union street, where a burst water pipe was removed and the ground sank so that it left a dangerous depression in the pavement.

A party of young men from this city who were in Lisbon yesterday attending the Zoellars case as witnesses held a dance in the Cowan House on Tuesday evening. The dining room was cleared, and 30 persons enjoyed the pleasure.

The party that will accompany John Sant to Louisville will be made up of 10 men and their families, and they expect to leave the last week in April. Mr. Sant has no desire to go until his business affairs here are wound up.

The revival services conducted by Reverend Slayter in the Christian church at New Cumberland closed last night with 90 converts added to the membership. In proportion to the population this is even better work than the gentleman did in this city.

News of the burning of the Iron Queen was received here with regret, as a number of persons have been discussing a trip to Cincinnati and return on the boat. They will not give up the plan, but will likely take advantage of the June rise and go on the Keystone State.

Pride of the East, Junior Mechanics, will celebrate their seventh anniversary on the evening of April 11, with great pomp and ceremony. The lady friends of the members will be present and an exceptionally good musical and literary program will be rendered. A banquet and dancing will end what the Mechanics believe is to be the greatest event in their history.

The Wellsville Union says that scarcely a freight train comes into that place without its complement of riders. As many as half a dozen hobos are seen on every train, and when they reach the depot they climb around on the river side of the cars or leave the train. The same has been noticed in this city. As a rule the riders are professionals, who know all the tricks of the practice and are well prepared to baffle the detectives.

A scandal is brewing at Smith's Ferry because of an action which, it is said, will soon appear in court. The principal figure in the case is the administrator of an estate who has not been faithful to his trust. All sorts of stories presume to explain the manner in which the estate has been squandered, and sensational rumors are afloat regarding the outcome. Several persons living in this city are more or less interested in a pecuniary way.

Since council has for the second time decided to pave Lincoln avenue, Grant street people announce their intention of asking for a similar favor. In case Lincoln avenue is paved it will be convenient for Grant street people, but as the latter explain it, it will be much more convenient for people who travel the Calcutta road to turn off the road when Grant street is paved. It will also be a great aid to livermen in charge of funerals for Riverview cemetery.

There is a monstrous kick in the city because the railroad company will not place the fare from this city to Pittsburg on the same basis as it is given the people of Rochester and other towns up the river. Some passengers for the city save the difference by buying one round trip ticket to Rochester, and from there securing another to Pittsburg. They save enough to make the difference pay for the trouble, but that does not prevent them from believing that the company should extend the favor to East Liverpool.

The soldier boys have already commenced to look forward to the days when they will enjoy their first encampment, and every scrap of information is eagerly taken up. They have learned that while no complete arrangements have yet been made it is the intention of the adjutant general to have the whole division encamp at the state grounds near Newark some time in August. The officers here have not yet been apprised of the date, but the boys will drill regularly in order to make a good showing when the time comes.

Pins, needles, seam binding, beading, garter web, whale bones and casing, pearl buttons, metal buttons, hooks and eyes, velveteen, dress facing, dress shields, velvet ribbons, silk ribbons, shell hairpins and combs, windsor ties, pocket books, steel buckles, threads of all kinds, covered whale bones, skirt braids, Barbour's linen threads, Warrens hose supporters for ladies misses and children; in fact, we always have the best of all these things, and at prices that it will pay you to investigate.

Kid Gloves.

We always keep the best makes No unreliable goods allowed on our shelves. In black goods we have the Foster hook at $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50, and in colors we keep the same grades, including browns, tans, English reds, slates and navys. In buying kid gloves of us you take no risks, as the makes we carry are the best sold.

Dress Linings.

There never was a time when dress linings cut so much of a figure in the make up of a ladies' costume. It is not hard to find linings, but to find the proper kind is the question. We carry a full line of Gilbert's linings, acknowledged to be the best made. "Fibre Chamois," a new interlining. All the different kinds of hair cloth, silk muslins, crinolines, drillings, silesias, linen ducks, collar canvas, percalines and cambrics. You will notice that our linings have the quality, not made so that you will have to reline your garment before you have worn it a month.

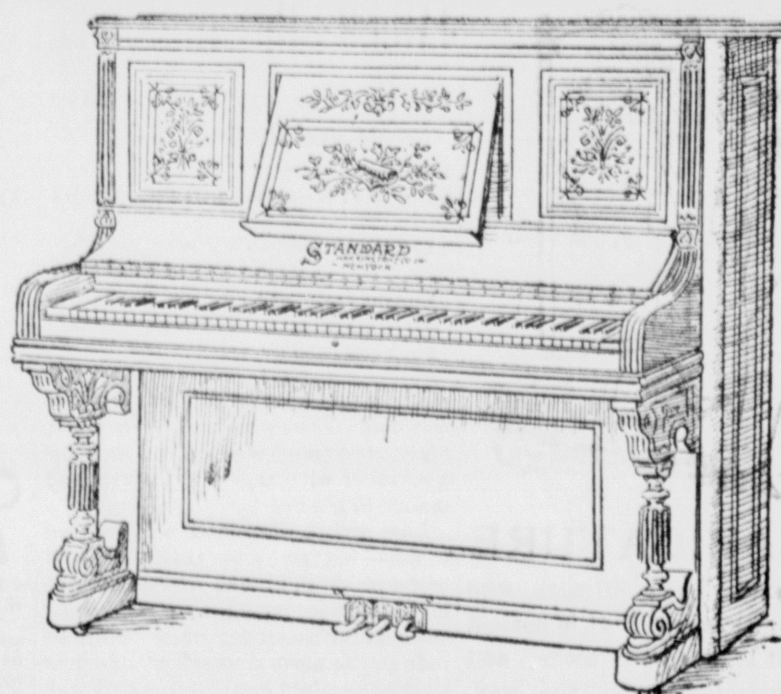

New Wrappers Today.

Upstairs in our new department another invoice of those saten wrappers. Come and see them. Have you looked over our shirt waists? It will pay you.

Dress Goods

You will see all the new styles by spending one hour in our dress goods stock. It will be a pleasure to show you. You will not be importuned to buy.

JAILED IN IRONDALE

But Anxious to Whip a Man
When He Gets Out.

HIS WIFE NOT DOING RIGHT

A Cleveland Man on His Way to Liverpool Was Arrested For Riding on a Freight Train, and While in Prison Was Given Startling News—The Police Asked For Protection.

A romance with sensational features was made known to the police last night, and they were on the alert for a stranger with anger in his eye and malice in his heart.

Last week a Cleveland man decided to move his family to this city, and being in straightened circumstances he decided to have his wife come by the regular passenger route while he rode in the most convenient side-door sleeper he could find. All went well until he reached Irondale, when he became so bold as to show himself, and was promptly arrested by Officer Roberts. Not being in position to pay the fine imposed he was locked up, but word was sent to friends in this city. The arrest occurred on Monday, and the next day he was informed that his wife was behaving in a shameful manner in Liverpool. The individual who sent this information failed to give the name of the other man, but sent a description. Then he wrote a letter to the frivolous woman, declaring that he would make it interesting for the party when he arrived in town. She got the epistle last evening, and there was consternation among her friends when the contents were made known. They at once sought the police, and begged that a close watch be kept for the stranger, and that he be prevented from doing violence. They also wanted protection for the woman, for they found that the husband would make it warm for all parties concerned. The police watched but failed to find the man with blood in his eye, but believe that the story has not yet been told.

PERSONAL MENTION.

A Gentle Corrective

is what you need when your liver becomes inactive. It's what you get when you take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, they're free from the violence and the griping that come with the ordinary pill. The best medical authorities agree that in regulating the bowels mild methods are preferable. For every derangement of the liver, stomach and bowels, these tiny, sugar-coated pills are most effective. They go about their work in an easy and natural way, and their good taste. Once used, they are always in favor. Being composed of the choicest, concentrated vegetable extracts, they cost much more than their pills found in the market, yet from forty to forty-five are put up in each sealed glass vial, at the price of the cheaper made pills.

"Pleasant Pellets" cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation, sour stomach, loss of appetite, coated tongue, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heart-burn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. Put up in sealed glass vials, therefore always fresh and reliable. Whether as a laxative, or in larger doses, as a gently acting but searching cathartic, these little "Pellets" are unequaled.

As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, take one each day after dinner. To relieve the distress arising from over-eating, nothing equals one of these little "Pellets." They are tiny, sugar-coated, antibilious granules. Any child readily takes them. Accept no substitute that may be recommended to be "just as good." It may be better for the dealer, but he is not the one who needs help.

A free sample (4 to 7 doses) on trial, is mailed to any address, post-paid, on receipt of name and address on postal card.

WILSON SWORN IN.

Gresham Gives Bissell a Case—Lettercarriers Compliment Him.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Hon. William L. Wilson has taken the oath of office as postmaster general. Chief Justice Fuller appeared at the post-office department and administered the oath in the presence of the principal officials of the department.

Then Postmaster DeLoach of New York introduced John N. Parsons, president of the Lettercarriers association of New York, and the latter, on behalf of the carriers, presented the retiring postmaster general with an engrossed copy of resolutions passed by the association commending the administration of Mr. Bissell, his enforcement of the 8-hour law and his extension of the civil service laws.

Secretary Gresham sent Mr. Bissell a hickory walking stick, which he had himself cut and trimmed from the grounds of the president's summer home at Woodley. Shortly after these preliminaries the employees of the department were introduced to Mr. Wilson and said goodbye to Mr. Bissell.

THE MAN WHO WROTE AMERICA.

Boston People Do Honor to Rev. Samuel E. Smith.

BOSTON, April 4.—The people of Boston yesterday engaged in presenting a fitting testimonial to Rev. Samuel E. Smith, the venerable author of the national hymn "America." The reception was presided over by Governor Greenhalge, and among the speakers were ex-Governor John D. Long, Commander Thayer of the Grand Army, Rev. Dr. Lorimer and others. Dr. Smith made an address, telling how he happened to write the national hymn and then shook hands with scores of his well wishers.

A feature of the exercises was the singing of "America" by a chorus of 300 children from the Boston public schools. Delegations of school children were present from various parts of the state, bearing banners appropriately inscribed. Music hall was lavishly decorated for the occasion and was crowded to the doors.

Injured by a Falling Elevator.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., April 4.—The elevator at the store of the Metropolitan Furniture company of this city has fallen a distance of 12 feet, carrying with it seven passengers, five men and two women. The jar, as the car struck the bottom, loosened the four heavy counterweights, which came crashing down through the wire roof of the car and struck James H. Downer and L. H. Walker, who received probably fatal injuries. William G. Dyouer, J. S. Stevens, who was running the elevator, and Dr. W. H. Young, were slightly hurt.

Old Abolitionist Dead.

DANIELSONVILLE, Conn., April 4.—Henry Hammond, the old time abolitionist, has died here.

Happily Married.

John Purpur, a West Virginia man, and Miss Annie Ayers, of East End, were united in marriage by Squire Travis at his office this morning.

Easter Opening at Lizzie Wilson's on April 4, 5 and 6. Music tonight. You have a special invitation.

A Peaceful Settlement Desired.

ROME, April 4.—Count Magliano, who was sent to Venezuela by the Italian government, has arrived at Caracas, where he has had a conference with the Venezuelan government respecting the European claims. The count has cabled the Italian government that the new Venezuelan government appears to be desirous of a peaceful solution of the incident between Venezuela and France and Belgium, arising from the comments of the representatives of the latter two countries on Venezuela's treatment of foreign claims.

Cleveland's Brother Not Wanted.

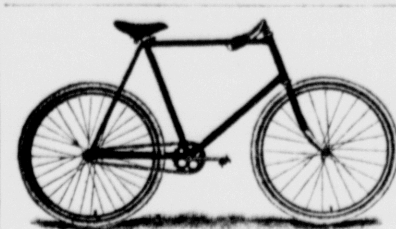

WATERTOWN, April 4.—By a vote of 28 to 1, during an exciting session, the congregation of the Presbyterian church at Watertown, this county, decided to ask Rev. William Cleveland, brother of President Cleveland, to tender his resignation of the pastorate. It is reported that politics has been a disturbing element, although Mr. Cleveland took no part in politics. Mr. Cleveland will appeal to the presbytery.

Being Tried by Courtmartial.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 4.—A general courtmartial is in progress at Fort Porter to try Captain John B. Guthrie, Company A, Thirtieth infantry, on the charge of having allowed Sergeant Marriot to partake of a Christmas dinner with his comrades at the fort while under indictment for the murder of Edward Schuler, a fellow soldier.

Big Concessions to Strikers.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The strike of the drivers of the Anacostia Street Railway company has been settled. The company agreed to pay the old wages, and if the receipts for April 1895 exceed those for April 1894, to divide the excess among its employees, also to allow the men to examine the books to determine the receipts.

DETROIT, April 4.—Jim Hall has issued a challenge to fight any man at 165 pounds for a reasonable stake. Nobody is barred, Hall claiming that he has been called a back number and wants to show that he is still in the game. Hall also states that he will bet any sum on a limited round contest with Joe Chovinski.

Russell Sage Gets a Judgment.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Russell Sage has gotten a judgment by default for $34,566.19 against the executors of the estate of Henry S. Ives in the supreme court before Justice Patterson and a jury. The action arose out of transactions in stock and dealings in securities in Wall street. No one appeared for the estate of Ives.

Orphan Boys For Canada.

PORTLAND, Me., April 4.—The steamship Parisian, from Liverpool, has brought 136 English orphan boys, ranging in age from 5 to 20 years, who will be given homes with Canadian farmers. They are sent by Dr. Barnardo, the famous English philanthropist.

Zeigler's Fate Not Known.

PALM BEACH, Fla., April 4.—The report that the sloop Crusoe was wrecked has not been confirmed. Those on board the Crusoe are Mr. Zeigler, the Brooklyn millionaire, Mr. Wells, Captain Hiscock and one seaman.

No Contest Over Douglas' Will.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The attorneys for the widow of Frederick Douglass state that there will be no contest over the will and that an amicable agreement will be reached by the heirs.
